

North American Tile Backer Board Supplier Due-Diligence Checklist

For U.S. and Canadian importers, distributors, wholesalers, and private-label buyers.

Use one sheet per supplier and proposed product. Set the scoring scale before comparison, list the evidence reviewed, and assign an owner to open items. A critical mismatch is a hold for investigation, not a score to offset.

Dimension	What to verify	Score	Evidence reviewed	Notes
Manufacturer identity	Legal company, factory address, production responsibility, invoice entity, and audit scope match.
Product specification	Board construction, dimensions, thicknesses, tolerances, surfaces, applications, and limitations are documented.
Report matching	Each report matches the factory, exact product, construction, thickness, method, date, and destination market.
Factory and QC evidence	Incoming checks, in-process controls, batch records, calibration, finished inspection, retained samples, and nonconformance handling are reviewable.
Sample and pilot control	Samples are representative, an approved reference is retained, and pilot production is inspected before scale-up.
Packaging and labeling	Carton or pallet protection, labels, handling, pallet configuration, and arrival inspection are agreed.
OEM and change control	Artwork, branding, specifications, approval ownership, and written change notification are defined.
Communication and correction	Responsibilities, response paths, corrective action, and records are clear.
Critical red flags	Company, factory, product, report, sample, or shipment details do not match; inspection or change control is refused.
